Montgomery Street Fair

OCTOBER 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th.

The Directors of the Street Fair Association met Monday night. The various committees were appointed and other routine business transacted. Owing to W. L. Gup-ton's enforced absence from the city in his duties on the Sanitary Commission his resignation as Auditor was accepted and Dr. Owings elected to fill the vacancy.

The splendid rain of yesterday assures a bumper corn crop. Let's have the greatest Street Fair ever held, it may be a large undertaking to eclipse some of the best ones held here, but the fine stock premiums being offered will induce strong competition in that line and the men who are directing the Fair this year are the kind of men to make it the "greatest ever." Help them by giving liberal premiums, your money will return to you many times in the next year.

A MIDNIGHT WEDDING AT MERCHANT'S HOTEL.

Dr. Thomas A. Finley, of Wellsville and Miss Carrie A. Appling, of Montgomery City tied up as Lid Goes on.

As the lid went on in this city this morning a wedding was solemnized in the parlors of the Merchants hotel. The contracting parties were Dr. Thomas A. Finley, of Wellsville and Miss Carrie A. Appling, of Montgomery City.

There were present some of the most distinguished citizens of Moberly, numbering about twenty. Judge W. H. Evans, in his usual impressive style, tied the knot.

The Doctor said he expected to locate at Higbee, but when asked by the reporter if he would leave for Higbee at 5 o'clock in the morning he gave no definite answer and the reporter was led to believe he might remain over.

The doctor and his newly made wife are highly respected citizens of their county.—Moberly Democrat.

Fresh Fish.
at Ross & Henderson's grocery every Friday.

Broke the Record.

The Steelsmiths opened a week's engagement at Hegarty's Opera House, last night with a play entitled "Just Before Dawn," and we can truthfully say that they broke the record on the sale of seats for the first night of any repertoire company that ever played in Moberly. The company is made up of all-around artists and play their parts well.

Beatrice, in her electric transformation and fire dance, was grand and space prevents us from mentioning each one in their special role but we can say that everyone was satisfactory and every theatre goer in Moberly will not regret the price of admission if they witness this company play any night this week.—Moberly, Mis-Democrat.

Good grades, right treatment and low prices are the slogan of La Crosse Lumber Co.

Bishop-Walker.

Mr. Leslie Bishop of Sharpsrock and Miss Ethel Walker of the same neighborhood told their friends and relatives Wednesday that they were coming to Montgomery to a ball game, but the young couple had no such intentions as they had been playing a game of "Hearts" for some time. Mr. Bishop being the winner, and the result being matrimony. They took dinner with Mr. Bob Wilson and family and after dinner told them they had secured a marriage license and wanted to know if they objected to the ceremony being performed at their home. Mr. Wilson told them he didn't care so about 2 o'clock Judge Ball arrived and tied the knot. Mr. Bishop is a young man of excellent habits, and very industrious and the bride is a charming young lady and will make Mr. Bishop an excellent helpmate. Mr. Bishop is known here among the baseball "fans" as the home-run hitter from Callaway. The TRIBUNE extends congratulations.

Miss Ivy Hensley gave a luncheon Tuesday in honor of her guest, Miss Evelyn Watts of Columbia, Mo. The following ladies were the recipients of Miss Hensley's hospitality and enjoyed the affair immensely: Mesdames A. B. Lail, Newt Mallerson, A. E. Kemper, Mrs. H. L. Sabourin, and Misses Stella Duffy, Bernadine Telfair, Benton McCannan, Gertrude Sharp, and Lucy Nowlin.

WERE WEDDED HERE.

Marriage of Popular Mound City Newspaper Man to Wisconsin Girl Ends Romance.

Miss May L. Lloyd, of Neillsville, Wisconsin, arrived in Cairo at 7:20 o'clock last night from Chicago and at 9 o'clock was quietly married to Mr. Lewis B. Ashbaugh of Mound City, by Rev. C. H. Armstrong at his residence at 408 Douglas street.

The wedding, which ends a romance dating back eight years, will be a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties, who though aware of the affection existing between them, were not prepared for its culmination at so early a date.

Mr. Ashbaugh is junior editor of the Pulaski Enterprise, of Mound City, Ill., which is published and edited by his father. He is a young man of exemplary habits and is well known and very popular both in that city and Cairo. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lloyd, of Neillsville, Wis. Mr. Lloyd is a wealthy and prominent lumberman and his charming daughter is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is prominent in social circles in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashbaugh leave this morning for Mound City where they will reside.—Cairo Bulletin. Lewis is the eldest son of H. C. Ashbaugh, formerly editor of the TRIBUNE and is well known here.

Street Fair Date Changed.

A committee composed of T. W. Rosser, E. L. Koontz and C. F. Wilkerson were appointed at the last meeting of the street fair promoters to solicit funds and see how public sentiment stands in regard to the matter. On account of business matters interfering, the work has been delayed and the committee has not been more than half way around among the business men, but the amount secured up to Wednesday noon was $400.

It was first estimated that $900 would finance the fair, but the promoters thought that if $700 could be secured it would insure the success of the enterprise. The committee report that they have met with very few who were not in favor of the fair and even some of them said they would give if it were the popular movement. Nearly everyone who has been solicited has been a liberal donor and according to the committee the fair is assured.

The date of the Fulton street fair will be changed in favor of the fair at Montgomery City, which had previously selected the first week of October. The matter of date has not been permanently settled as yet. Mr. Wilkerson has been in correspondence with several carnival companies and it will be no trouble to secure one at any date agreed on by the home people.—Fulton Gazette.

The Montgomery Pressing Club opened Jan. 1st '05 with 30 members; now enrolled 100. First member was Mr. Bush Hensley. First lady I worked for was Mrs. W. W. Worley, and many of her friends.
